COMMENTS: We had the honor to have the earthquake financing bill the City introduced to be one of Governor Deukmejian's many vetoes last week. In talking with Henry Mello's staff on the bill, they suggested that we request it be reintroduced after the Governor's term is up. Evidently, there was a lot of support for the idea and it passed unanimously in both the Senate and Assembly. The attached letter is both a thank you and request for reintroduction at a later date. The Cities of Los Angeles and San Diego ^{San Francisco} supported the bill so it will stand a good chance with a new Governor. Thanks,

Re: SB 1088

Dear Henry:

On behalf of the City of Santa Cruz, I would like to express our sincerest appreciation for your efforts in seeking passage of Senate Bill 1088. This bill, as you no doubt are aware, would have been a giant step forward for many California cities in finding a viable method to finance the seismic retrofitting of unreinforced masonry buildings. The work that both you and Dean Miscynski of the Senate Office of Research did in securing passage of this bill by both the Senate and Assembly is sincerely appreciated by our City and other interested groups.

While SB 1088 was vetoed by the Governor, the City of Santa Cruz is still faced with the problem of finding a method to finance the retrofitting of unreinforced masonry buildings. I still believe the method proposed in SB 1088 is needed by our City and others. Therefore, I would like to request that you reintroduce SB 1088 at a time you believe will allow it to receive approval by a new administration. The points raised by Governor Deukmejian are valid, however, he has no other alternative to deal with this issue, and I believe the passage of SB 1088 by both the Assembly and the Senate indicate it has merit, and will ultimately be successful when explained to a new administration.

Again, on behalf of the City of Santa Cruz I would like to express our sincerest appreciation for your cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

Mardi Wormhoudt
